Campus Elections Set For Tuesday In ASA Quarters

The first campus-wide election of the 1963-64 school year will be held tomorrow, Oct. 8, in the All Students Association room.

Polls will be open between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

A number of important issues are to be voted on and several changes have been made in election procedure.

This year each student must present his student activities card in order to vote in campus elections.

The campus-wide election will include the selection of a homecoming queen and her maids.

At the same time that this is being voted on, both freshmen and sophomores will be electing their class officers.

The procedure for voting has been altered slightly to avoid confusion in the ASA room.

Enrollment Hits 1,465 For Record

Total enrollment for The University of Tennessee Martin Branch has reached an all time high of 1465, according to Mrs. Myrtle H. Phillips, registrar.

Sophomores will go directly to table two, pick up their ballots, go on to ballot box three, which is for the sophomore class election, then on to box two and out.

High School Seniors To Visit UTMB Classes In New Program

A new program of high school senior visitation to The University of Tennessee Martin Branch is being developed, according to Prof. Henry C. Allison, freshman counselor.

According to this plan, the University will work in cooperation with a number of high schools throughout this area. From the high school principals and guidance counselors, the person in charge of the program at UTMB will obtain a list of those seniors who are interested in attending college. Then he will assign each visiting student to the head of the department in which the student is interested. When the group of students comes to UTMB they will go to the various departments and there each one will be given a "buddy," or UTMB student who is regularly enrolled in that department. The visiting senior will go with his buddy to classes, to eat, to the dorm and anywhere else during the time he is on this campus. He is the responsibility of the UTMB student to whom he is assigned. The purpose of this plan, Mr Allison said, is to give high school seniors a more realistic picture of UTMB than can be presented at the annual

Open House. Some students who took part in an experimental program of this type last spring indicated to him that they feel a program of this type is needed and will prove more helpful to the prospective student than the Open House, which may be discontinued after this year.

Mr. Allison said that plans are already being made for one group to come to campus in October and another in November.

Thirty-Three Win Choralairs Places

Thirty-three University of Tennessee Martin Branch students have been selected as members of The Choralairs.

The Choralairs is a mixed a capella chorus of students chosen by audition. This year The Choralairs plan to give a number of performances in the churches and towns outside of Martin as well as on the UTMB campus, according to Miss Harriet Fulton, director.

Those chosen for Choralairs are: Sopranos: Mary Douglas, Glenda Witherspoon, Sandra Archer, Beverly Chandler, Peggy Smigh, Carol Speight, Charlotte Black, Marilyn Mann, Polly Beth Crawford, Annette Grissom, and Glenda Booker.

Tenors: Andy Gardner, J. T. Patterson, Don Speight, Jimmy Lynn, Robert Wright, Sam Nalling, and Bill Hancock.

Altos: Charlotte Cunningham, Linda Martin, Anita Davis, Mary Beth Hutson, Nancy Davis, Terry Culvahouse, and Brenda Garner.

Bass: Joel Arant, Ronald Pratt, Billy Aldmond, Joe Stroud, Joe Burns, Jim Horde, Tom Barnes, and Howard Deck.

The college chorus is open to all students and faculty members without try-outs. THE MESSIAH will again be presented at Christmas time. Anyone interested in singing in it should come to rehearsals Monday and Thursday nights at eight p.m. in the Music Building, according to Miss Fulton.

persons are expected to attend. At 4:00 p.m. there will be a dedication of the new buildings on campus.

Wayne Fisher, chairman of the Martin Branch committee of the U-T Board of Trustees, will present the new gym, heat plant, and addition to the women's dorm to President Holt.

The general public is invited to these programs.

All Students Association Co-Sponsors Guy Lombardo

Guy Lombardo and his world-famous Royal Canadians will give a two-hour concert in Martin Sunday afternoon, October 27th.

Known for the "Sweetest Music this side of Heaven" the Royal Canadians will appear at the new UTMB Fieldhouse from 3-5 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Martin Rotary Club.

The All Students Association is sponsoring ticket sales on the University of Tennessee Martin Branch campus, according to David Stroud, ASA president. Tickets will be on sale soon, and the ASA will receive 50 cents for each ticket sold.

Reserved seats are $3.00 and general admission tickets are $2.50.

The Lombardo band originated in Canada and at first included only Guy and his three brothers - Carmen, Lebert, and Victor. A series of bookings in the New York area led to big-time promotion of the band and a decision by Guy to remain in the United States and build the band up to its Royal Canadian status.

The Royal Canadians were stellar attractions across the length and breadth of the United States in the 30's and for years were annually voted the favorite big-band accolade by newspaper and radio editors over such organizations as the swing bands of Goodman, Shaw, Krupa, the Dorseys, and others.

The Lombardo band started out with four Lombardos, and they are still together. Carmen is the lead saxophonist of the outfit and it is his "singing" style of playing the instrument that is largely responsible for setting the band's style. Other reed instrumentalists have been engaged purposely to complement his style of phrasing.

Vol Cheerleaders Chosen For Sports' Year '63-'64

New cheerleaders for this year are Elaine McKey, James Newcombe, Carrol Schrader, and Virginia Zachary. These students along with Carol Glisson, Joetta Smith, and Martha Lee Woods will lead the cheers for the Vols.

Elaine comes from Mt. Juliet, where she was a cheerleader for three years. She is a freshman majoring in Home Economics.

James is a junior in elementary education from Greenwich, Rhode Island.

Carrol is also a freshman with two years experience at South Fulton. Her major is history in the field of secondary education.

Virginia is a senior in elementary education. She is from Cleveland, Ohio, where she was cheerleader for two years at Garfield Heights High.

Help Build Stadium

UTMB is going to have a new football stadium--and soon, thanks to the many loyal supporters and friends in this area.

Donations, and pledges ranging from $1.00 to $2,500 have swelled the total realized from the drive to nearly $145,000.

Congratulations to the students who contributed on registration day. The freshmen supported the campaign admirably and a number of upperclassmen contributed, though by no means a majority of them.

When the drive was at its peak this summer David Stroud pledged a rather large sum on behalf of the student body. Despite the generosity of the freshmen we have not yet reached this goal. This puts David in the rather uncomfortable position of being out on a limb and it is up to us students to help get him off. This sum has already been counted in the total!

It is not too late to give to the stadium fund so come on, be generous, and help David and UTMB out!

Citizens Should Vote

Tomorrow the first major campus-wide election of this year will be held.

Homecoming royalty will be elected and the freshman and sophomore classes will select their officers for the coming year.

Taking part in student elections is an important facet of campus life, and should be an important event in the life of every student.

Those whom we elect will be our official representatives at UTMB. For this reason we as students should accept the responsibility of voting and think of it as a privilege. This right is symbolic of the total concept of democracy. Isn't that the idea of our attending UTMB?

New Things Added

New students, new faculty members, new buildings, new developments in educational programs and plans for more in the near future--it makes an impressive list, doesn't it?

In the news columns of The Volette there is

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The 1963-64 school year at UTMB has started. The freshmen and upperclassmen have started classes and are eager to go for another school year. The upperclassmen came back to UTMB and found many wonderful changes made on campus. The largest freshman class ever has entered school with the best facilities yet to be offered to an incoming freshman class. I am proud of the improvements and growth of our school.

At one time we were considered only a small part of The University of Tennessee at Knoxville. Now we have grown in size and pride. Changes are taking place everyday. These changes are done for the students and now the students want to make a change.

Last year a petition was started and signed by a large number of students concerning the movement of Barnwarming to another date other than Homecoming. This petition was presented to the ASA with little success, mainly because they called Barnwarming at Homecoming a tradition.

I am very proud of our Agriculture Department and consider it one of the best, if not the best in this area. However, I feel that Homecoming should honor all departments with more emphasis being placed upon the homecoming queen and royalty which is elected by the whole student body.

I express these views as a student and I feel that a majority of the students on campus agree with me. This was shown by the small number of students and alumni who attended last year's Barnwarming. Homecoming is a time when the school welcomes back its alumni and friends. We, as students, should be proud of this day. Are the majority of students proud of Barnwarming at Homecoming?

A local club was scheduled a dance the same night as Barnwarming this year. It is my feeling that a larger number of students will attend this dance than will attend Barnwarming. If this is true I feel that Barnwarming as a tradition at Homecoming has outgrown itself on our campus.

I express these views as a student who is proud of his school and wishes to be prouder.

Sincerely yours,
Paul E. Young

Faculty Women's Club Held Meeting Sept. 19

The UTMB Faculty Women's Club met Thursday evening, September 19, at the University Cafeteria for the annual fall business meeting and dinner.

After the invocation by Mrs. William Vaughan, dinner and a short period of conversation, Mrs. Paul Meek welcomed everyone and gave a short resume of the summer at UTMB.

BY ERNIE MCCALL

Who said there's nothing new under the sun? There's plenty that's new here at UTMB this year.

In the first place, three new buildings have done much to change the physical plant of the campus. An addition to the Main Girls' Dormitory has made it possible to house all resident girls in the one unit. The new dorm features air conditioning, an elevator, and a kitchen.

With the completion of the new steam plant comes the promise of a more efficient heating system. The third new building and the largest construction of campus, which has just been completed is the new gymnasium. Included in the new edifice is office space, classroom space, and a well planned basketball arena that will seat approximately 3400 people. Girls have been fortunate enough to inherit the old gym for their use alone. Worse luck!

In addition to new buildings, new and wider sidewalks are now crisscrossing the campus. These will be especially convenient to students on those days that are for ducks only.

Read and Freeman Halls have seen another turnabout. Both were originally boys dorms, then change took place, and they housed women. But as time would have it, progressive growth here at UTMB has resulted in the return of men to these halls.

A dean of women, Miss Stbyl McDonald, has been added to the administrative staff. Miss McDonald has also added something new to UTMB: new dorm rules for girls. One only has to listen with one half of one ear to hear all types of opinions, favorable and unfavorable, on these changes.

The reserve book room of the library is another "new" this year. Room 200 in the ABL

Building has been equipped for this purpose. It is furnished at present with temporary furniture in order to open for service on October 1. Attractive, well designed library furniture is on order and will be installed later in the fall quarter. Accommodation for 72 people will give much needed seating space for the library. Reserve book room hours will follow the same schedule as the main part of the library except that the reserve book room will be closed for the supper hour.

Another item of interest is the new length in lines at restaurants and the cafeteria. Hungry students are finding it more and more difficult to eat. This problem is due to the increase in number of students. Thus far, 636 freshmen have helped to build the population at UTMB to an all time high of 1464.

A new football practice field is now located near the new gym. Athletes have been using the temporary facilities since fall practice began.

Captain McHugh of the ROTC Department is presently busy organizing UTMB's first varsity co-educational rifle team. The team will encounter its first opponents at a rifle meet at Murray State October 5.

Not wishing to be left out of the picture, the VOLETTE is also planning something new. The staff will publish a paper each week instead of every other week as was previously done.

New requirements for admission to the University have been recently issued from the registrar's office. These are listed in the 1963-64 catalog. Although there are many additions to UTMB, the institution still exists for the same purpose--to educate young minds and make for happier and more prosperous living.

Endorsement In Music Education Offered First Time This Fall

Music majors will be able to earn a degree in the Department of Education at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch beginning the fall of 1963, Vice President Paul Meek has announced.

The new degree, recently approved by the U-T Knoxville Senate, will prepare students for teaching music and directing band and chorus in elementary and high school. Since all freshman and sophomore courses for this degree are already being offered at UTMB, junior courses will be offered in 1965 and senior courses in 1966. Music majors entering in the fall of 1963 will be ready for graduation in the spring of 1967.

Three programs for the new music major will be offered, vocal, instrumental and a combination of the two.

In addition to the supporting liberal arts courses and the courses in education, the student majoring in music will take courses in the teaching of music in choral methods and materials, conducting and orchestration, as well as the basic music theory and history courses.

The program also offers all the basic courses for the freshman and sophomore years leading toward the bachelor of music degree or the bachelor of arts degree with a music major.

Seventeen new courses will be added to the music offerings at UTMB in order to provide for the requirements for the music education degree.

New Home Economics Chapter members will be initiated tonight at the first chapter meeting in Room 112 administration building.

A tea was given for the new Home Ec. students and their parents Sunday, September 29 at the home management house.

A committee headed by Mary Ellen Branch was appointed by Reba Graves, chapter president, for the chapter Homecoming float.

Women's Dorm

Jenny Ladd was elected vice-president of the Women's Dorm October 2.

Others elected were: Lucy Lowry, ASA representative; Carol Warmbrod, reporter; Cindy Wilson, annual representative; Betty Webb and Jane Brooks, devotional chairman; and Teddy Harbin, Homecoming queen nominee.

These officers will serve with Marita Moseman, president, and Alma Greer, secretary who were elected last year.

ATO

The Alpha Tau Omega Colony began the year with a flying start by initiating four members and beginning work on a den.

The new members are Howell Wayne Todd, Bo Belcher, Sam Nailling, and Roger Harris; these boys along with the rest of the Colony have been spending all of their free time converting the old garage into a new den and TV room.

The Colony would like to salute brothers J. T. Patterson, Billy Redmond, and election as president of the senior class, reporter of the senior class, and president of the junior class respectively.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Delta Mu Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha held its annual workshop at Natchez Trace State Park, September 2-5. Seventeen girls attended the workshop. Plans were made concerning Rush, Homecoming, and other events.

Mary Llew Jones presented to the chapter a silver plaque.

New Rush Procedures Set By Interfraternity Council

A number of new procedures have been set up this year by the Interfraternity Council concerning fraternity rush.

The 1963-64 Interfraternity Council Rush will be conducted on the nights of October 7, 8 and 10.

Rushes have already been assigned to either Group A or Group B.

On the night of October 7 at 7:00 Group A will go to the Alpha Gamma Rho House and Group B will attend the smoker at the Pi Kappa Alpha House. At 8:30 the two groups will switch, with Group A now at the Pi Kappa Alpha House and Group B at the Alpha Gamma Rho House.

The second night of Rush will find Group A attending the smoker at the Phi Sigma Kappa House and Group B will be at the Alpha Tau Omega House from 7:00 to 8:30. At this time the groups will again switch houses as they did the previous night.

Each of the four fraternities will hold its final rush party Thursday night. Rushes indicate their preference by attendance at these parties.

Any male student who is interested in pledging a fraternity, and who has not signed

BSU

Each rushee must, according to the new rules, sign the register at each of the four smokers. Anyone failing to do so will not be allowed to pledge any fraternity this quarter.

Pi Kappa Alpha Acquires House On Oxford Street

BY DAVID DUNCAN

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at UTMB has purchased the house at 410 Oxford.

Because of inadequate facilities at 413 Oakland, the Pikes felt the urge to move last spring and acquired the new house during the summer. It is the former Benson home and is located next door to Mrs. Mildred Payne, English instructor at UTMB.

Devoted entirely to comfort and living space, it houses only the officers of Epsilon-Sigma Chapter in the second story; the rooms on the first floor are dens, living rooms, and lounges.

Three rooms are at the front of the house. The front door opens into a large hallway which leads to the TV room in the rear. The hall is carpeted in crimson and the woodwork is coated in white. A colonial staircase leads from the front to the upstairs living quarters.

To the left and right of the hallway are two spacious living rooms. New furniture sparks the interior decorations with lightcolored drapes and wallpaper adding to the easy beauty of the two rooms. From the left room, doors lead into the office. From the right room, another lounging room and meeting room is found.

One of the prides of the house is the TV room, den, and kitchen; all wood-paneled and very large. Leather, sofas, chairs, and other furniture are arranged around the color television set. To the left is the kitchen. The back door opens into a beautiful back lawn shaded in several elms and apple trees.

Upstairs there are three large bedrooms providing comfortable living quarters for the officers.

The house is another beautiful addition to the many beautiful fraternity headquarters here at UTMB. We are proud of it and hope that it can serve as a tribute to the university.

WORDS: THEIR CAUSE AND CURE

Today let us take up the subject of etymology (or entomology, as it is sometimes called) which is the study of word origins (or insects, as they are sometimes called).

Where are word origins (insects) to be found? Well sir, sometimes words are proper names which have passed into the language. Take, for instance, the words used in electricity: ampere was named after its discoverer, the Frenchman Andre Marie Ampere (1775-1836); similarly, ohm was named after the German G.S. Ohm (1781-1854), watt after the Scot James Watt (1736-1819), and bulb after the American Fred C. Bulb (1843-1912).

There is, incidentally, quite a poignant little story about Mr. Bulb. Until Bulb's invention, all illumination was provided by gas, which was named after its inventor Milton T. Gas who, strange to tell, had been Bulb's roommate at Cal Tech! In fact, strange to tell, the third man sharing the room with Bulb and Gas was also one whose name burns bright in the annals of illumination—Walter Candle!

The three roommates were inseparable companions in college. After graduation all three did research in the problems of artificial light, which at this time did not exist. All America used to go to bed with the chickens, and many fine citizens were, alas, severely injured falling off the roost.

Well sir, the three comrades—Bulb, Gas, and Candle—promised to be friends forever when they left school, but success, alas, spoiled all that. First Candle invented the candle, got rich, and forgot his old friends. Then Gas invented gas, got rich, bankrupted Candle, and forgot his old friends. Then Bulb invented the bulb, got rich, bankrupted Gas, and forgot his old friends.

Candle and Gas, bitter and impoverished at the ages respectively of 75 and 71, went to sea as respectively the world's oldest and second oldest cabin boy. Bulb, rich and grand, also went to sea, but he went in style—as a first-class passenger on luxury liners.

Well sir, strange to tell, all three were aboard the ill-fated Lusitania when she was sunk in the North Atlantic. And strange to tell, when they were swimming for their lives after the shipwreck, all three clambered aboard the same dinghy!

Well sir, chastened and made wiser by their brush with peril, they fell into each other's arms and wept and exchanged forgiveness and became fast friends all over again.

For three years they drifted in the dinghy, shaking hands and singing the Cal Tech rouser all the while. Then, at long last, they spied a passing liner and were taken aboard.

They remained fast friends for the rest of their days, which, I regret to report, were not many, because the liner which picked them up was the Titanic.

What a pity that Marlboros were not invented during the lifetimes of Bulb, Gas, and Candle. Had there been Marlboros, these three friends never would have grown apart because they would have realized how much, despite their differences, they still had in common. I mean to say that Marlboros can be lit by candle, by gas, and by electricity, and no matter how you light them, you always get a lot to like—a filter, a flavor, a pack or box that makes anyone—including Bulb, Gas, and Candle—settle back and forswear pettiness and smile the sweet smile of friendship on all who pass!

Howard Finley heads for pay dirt in game against the Missouri Miners Saturday night. UTMB totaled up a 32-7 victory.

As It Looks From Here

By DAVID DUNCAN

Although students are just presently becoming adjusted to the new fall quarter, sports action at UTMB is well under way. The Vols approach the mid-season mark looking for their third football win, while basketball practice began last week in preparation for the season's opener, November 30.

UTMB's football record, standing at 2-2, may look bad in comparison to several records of previous years, but the Vols, laden with inexperience, are doing quite well, considering that they lost the entire starting backfield to graduation last year along with key ends and tackles. In addition, the toughest schedule in UTMB's history is on the '63 slate.

The Vols' two losses came at the hands of OVC power Middle Tennessee and AIC title seeker Arkansas State Teachers. The final score in both games showed the Vols to be a one touchdown loser, but definitely proved that the Vols are up to date with the best ones. MTSC was slated to run over the home boys by 48 points in one prediction, but the Vols scored 14 points in the last half to make the Blue Raiders 21 points a bit shaky. So if the Vols give Murray State a rough way to go only the highest will be in store for the future.

As for last week's win over the Miners, everybody looked good. The passing attack was tremendous, and was accounted for by three things. The line held fast and gave the quarterback adequate time, Watson displayed accuracy of the highest degree, and that extra effort on the part of the receiver paid off on at least two occasions.

Yes, it is evident that the UTMB Vols are steadily climbing toward their ultimate goal.

ROTC Varsity Rifle Team Organized At U-T Martin

The Varsity Rifle Team has been formed and some matches have been scheduled for the near future but try-outs are still being conducted, McHugh added. The team will fire eight matches at home and eight away.

that being to become a top small college football power in this section of the country. With this year being spent in rebuilding the Vols should, if they don't do it this season, make themselves known next year among the ranks of top teams throughout the area.

A show of gratitude should be extended to the coaching staff of the Vols. Since 1961, they have made great strides upward in securing high class competition and greater talent for the school's football team. This definitely will lead to great things.

Vols Beat Miners Going Away In Tilt Here Saturday Night

UTMB balanced its records last Saturday night, October 5, by overpowering the Missouri School of Mines 32-7 on the home field.

The Vols scored touchdowns in every quarter, with two coming in the second. Howard Finley, 157-pound halfback, opened the score books in the first quarter, and end Scott Boehringer and fullback Gene Brodie took second quarter honors. Brodie and Finley scored again in the third and final quarters. Jerry Gage kicked the two extra points. The Miners' score came in the final quarter when Bill Couse, fullback, pushed over for a one-yard six-pointer. Ron Leonie kicked the point after.

UTMB's first scoring drive was born on the Vol 24 yard line and was nurtured with large gains by senior Brodie and a long pass completion to Boehringer. At the 32-yard line senior quarterback Bill Watson fired a scoring pass to Finley. An attempt at two extra points failed.

In the second quarter, another Vol drive began on the Orange 30. Moving into Miner territory, Watson completed another pass to Boehringer who raced 60 yards for the only other score the Vols needed. Gage, 180 pound halfback, scored the point after. However, after an 88-yard march, UTMB increased its score by six points when Brodie pushed over from the one.

After the half-time show, UTMB came back and stopped the Miners on the three yard line. From there the Vols moved all the way upfield as a result of several long runs by Finley. On the final play of the quarter, Brodie hauled a 12-yard scoring pass from Watson and Gage booted the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, the Miners scored their first and final TD. Led by Eracleson in a 69-yard march, Bill Couse crashed over from the three, and Ron Leonie kicked the extra points. Later, Jerry Gage took charge to help the Vols to another scoring opportunity. At the nine yard line, Finley skirted left end for the final game TD. A kicking attempt failed.

This game was perhaps the Vols' best offensive performance of the season. Racking up 209 yards passing and 454 total offense, the Vols' attack was much more stable than in previous performances. 10 out of 15 passes were completed during the game. This record was largely due to the sturdiness of the line. Passers Watson and Sandy Smith found themselves with more than ample protection and adequate time for accurate completions.

The Vols' rushing attack was much better also. Brodie and Finley together accounted for 162 of the 245 yards. Next week the same is expected when the Tigers of Livingston State travel to Martin for the Homecoming tilt. Last year the Vols fell 15-12 at Livingston.

WAITING IN THE WINGS

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP) — When sophomore wingback Wayne Harris suffered a knee injury the first week of fall practice, Mississippi was forced to make some revisions in the backfield alignment.

Harris' loss moved Johnny Champion, a soph, from tailback to wingback with the third team, and a promotion for Tailback Dave Wells of Madisonville, Kan., from the B team to the third unit.

Cagers Work Out For Nov. 30 Opener

BY DAVID DUNCAN

Conditioning began last week for the Vol basketballers in preparation for their opening game November 30.

Head coach Floyd Burdette has pieced together what he considers to be the toughest basketball schedule in UTMB's history to face the Vols this year.

To match this, the staff has recruited a squad stacked with experience and plentiful depth—something UTMB has lacked for several years. Nine returning men from last year's squad; including Larry Powers, Dolph Larimer, Ronnie Armstrong and Johnny Williams; five transfers, including 6-8 Bobby Kinaird and 6-5 Moore Landers; and four freshmen, including three all-stars complete the 1963-64 roster.

Powers, Larimer and Williams were starters in several games last year. Powers, a senior center standing 6-4, is in line for the starting position. Larimer, a 6-2 scrapper, should play a lot of ball as a starting forward. The other forward is up for grabs. Armstrong, 6-2 ball hawk and sharpshooter, is expected to nail down a guard spot, and Williams, 6-0 speedster, will be competing for the other.

Competition is high for these starting positions, a condition which always makes for a better squad. This could be the year for UTMB.

UTMB Vols Prove Good Mudders Despite 14-21 Loss To MTSC

Playing in a steady downpour of rain, the Vols of UTMB were defeated Sept. 28 by the score of 21-14 by the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee State, but not before a struggle to disprove the heavily-Radler-favored predictions.

Slated 28 and 46 point underdogs in two forecasts, The Volunteers fought back under a 14-0 halftime deficit with two touchdowns. However, the Raiders iced the game in the third quarter with an eight yard scoring pass.

The first two Raider paydirt advances came in the first and second quarters. David Petty, 190 pound fullback, plunged one yard into the end zone for the first score of the ball game. Morris, quarterback, raced 57 yards around right end to paydirt. Ray Simons kicked both extra points.

UTMB came back in the second half, when Gene Brodie, senior fullback, hit off-tackle for a 16-yard scoring punch. The point after failed. The score standing at 14-6, MTSC marched down to the eight where Morris passed to George Dykes, Raider end, for the final touchdown. Simons again booted the extra point. The Vols then staged several drives, until finally in the latter part of the fourth quarter, Billy Watson passed to Wes Elrod for a 17-yard score. Howard Finley took the ball and skirted end for the two extra points.

This was the first game in over a quarter century between the two schools. MTSC is considered to be a top contender for the highclass Ohio Valley Conference crown.

The home of the Raiders, Murfreesboro, was covered with a steady rain throughout the day. Beginning before noon, it lasted throughout the first half of the ball game. Water stood in puddles on several places on the playing field causing the ball to be very slippery and costing both teams offensive control.

UTMB could not get rolling in the first quarter because of center-quarterback exchanges. Though none led directly to Raider touchdowns, they continually hindered the Vols' rushing attack.

MTSC had their troubles also, losing three fumbles, one which cost them a touchdown. In all a total of 12 fumbles were witnessed throughout the game.

The football team and coaching staff have expressed their thanks for the number of fans who attended the game despite the terrible conditions. "That's the kind of spirit we need at UTMB," Coach Carroll commented.

In the fraternity averages Alpha Gamma Rho was on top with a 2.41. AGR pledges averaged 2.25.

Next in line was Pi Kappa Alpha with a 2.39. Pike pledges had a 1.58 overall.

Alpha Tau Omega colony was third on the list with a 2.21. Their pledges had a 1.86.

Phi Sigma Kappa men made a 2.18 average, and Phi Sig pledges were high with a 2.34.

Intramurals Poppin' All Over The Place

Table Tennis Anyone? --Or volleyball? --Or Archery?!! If so, this quarter's Women's Intramurals schedule is designed for YOU!

"Sign up" sheets for entering the table tennis and archery tournaments will be found on the Women's Intramural Board in the old Physical Education Building.

EVERY woman enrolled as a full time student at UTMB has an opportunity to participate in the fun and "vigah" of these intramural activities.

Sorority Women Beat Frat Men Grade-Wise

Sorority women are again ahead of the fraternity men on campus according to spring quarter grade averages.

Chi Omega sorority led all the rest with a 2.87 average. Chi O pledges had a 2.01.

Zeta Tau Alpha was next in the sorority division with a close 2.81. Zeta pledges averaged 1.77.

Alpha Delta Pi averaged a 2.67, with their pledges making a 1.82.

Vols Win, Lose In First Two Home Games Of 1963 Season

The Volunteers lost their first game of the season to an experienced Arkansas State Teacher eleven, 13-6, Saturday night, September 21.

Playing their second straight game on the home field, the Vols returned from the game prior with a new offensive backfield taken from switched starters. Gene Brodie was placed at fullback, Howard Finley at halfback, and Sandy Smith at quarterback.

It was a reverse of last year's victory at Conway. The Vole won their 13-6 for their first win of the '62 season. The ASTC-UTMB series record now stand at 4-2.

Howard Finley scored the only Vol TD in the second quarter. The Teachers scored in the first and last quarters. Bob Carroll, fullback, and Bob Stone, halfback, clinched the points, and Tom Clark booted the first extra point.

The first quarter provided death to UTMB. ASTC scored with in the first five minutes of play after a 64 yard drive downfield. Led by the rushing of Carroll and Stone and by the pass receiving of Bill Shimek, the Teachers pushed down to the eight yard line where Carroll slashed off-tackle for the score. After the extra point, the Vols were unable to get the ball for more than seven plays.

Finally, midway through the second quarter, a drive began on the Vols' own 32. Striding down into Bear territory, they were stopped on the five yard line. At this point, Finley, sophomore halfback, received the TD pass from Billy Watson, senior quarterback.

The third quarter of action presented great defensive play. Both teams were held to an equal amount of yardage. However, at the start of the fourth quarter, ASTC began a drive at mid-field and marched slowly but steadily downfield to the six yard line, where Stone raced around end for the score.

Arkansas State Teachers College, considered to be a top contender for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference title are always considered to be a rough opponent for UTMB. The game is always marked with hard-hitting and brilliant offensive action. ASTC followed a new face on the Vol schedule. UTMB played Harding College at Martin the week before on September 14.

UTMB scored in the first, second, and fourth quarters to produce an opening game victory over Harding 19-7.

Joe Roberts, 202 pound fullback, scored at the close of the first quarter going over guard for four yards at the end of a Vol-dominated twelve minutes. It was the first game Joe had ever scored in since his college career began. He was also the leading rusher that night with 83 yards in 14 carries.

Harding bounced back after the kick-off and drove down to the one yard line where quarterback Tom Carter stepped for the first and last Bison score. Still during the second quarter, after the ball had changed hands twice, Billy Watson fired a 36-yard scoring pass to Scott Boehringer in the corner of the end zone for the clinching TD. Jerry Gage kicked the extra point.

The third quarter was scoreless with Harding holding the ball throughout the period. However, midway through the fourth quarter, the Vols caught fire again and began another scoring drive. It was climaxed when Watson fired another TD pass to Wes Elrod, 205 pound end. A large number of fans turned out for the game, although it was played before registration.

Rifle Team Includes Several Annie Oakleys

"All Annie Oakleys are requested to try-out for the Varsity Rifle Team," stated Captain Thomas McHugh, associate professor of military science at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch, emphasizing the fact that women shooters will be welcomed on the rifle team.

Women riflemen qualifying for the team will not be organized into a separate squad but will fire alongside the male shooters on the same rifle team.

Coeds Dumb On Campus?

BY GAIL PARKS

Many on this typically friendly campus have been surprised at the number of coeds who literally have not been on speaking terms. This is not only true of casual acquaintances, but even roommates and sisters were not conversing.

What is this madness?

It has been all a part of the frantic rush that the fraternity, women and rushees have been engaged in since September 30. To the outsider it may seem a bit unnecessary, if not a trifle foolish, for a roommate not to be able to say, "Please pass the toothpaste," but despite the awkwardness and inconvenience silence may cause, its aim and function are worthwhile. Its point is to give the three Greek organizations for women and all the rushees equal chances to get to know and to impress each other during rush. The silence period, imposed by the Panhellenic on all women involved, allows actives and rushees to converse only at designated parties.

Despite the function that silence fulfills, it places many girls in humorous positions. In one instance, parents visiting sisters who are coeds on this campus were probably amazed not to hear one cross word exchanged between their active and rushee daughters. The reason? They did not speak at all!

Martin Band Growing In Size And Getting New Instruments

The University of Tennessee Martin Branch marching band is growing bigger and better this year, according to Glenn Wisener, band director.

Several thousands of dollars have been spent on new instruments and equipment. The band has new caps and hopes to have new uniforms in the next couple of years.

The first appearance of the band was this past week end at the Missouri School of Mines ballgame. The band provided a pre-game presentation of The Star Spangled Banner. Half-time activities were shared with ROTC presentation of sponsors.

Homecoming game marks a high spot of the school year. The university band will again share in presentation of the homecoming court. Four to six guest bands are expected to participate in the Homecoming Parade Saturday morning.

Two trips are planned for the band this fall. One is to the Murray State-UTMB game at Murray, Ky., and the other to Austin Peay State College in Clarksville for the game.

On November 16, UTMB Band Day, approximately 400 to 600 high school students will be participating in the activities. Each band will select a queen in the morning and the queens will be featured in the 11 a.m. parade. All bands will be combined to present a massed band concert at half-time of the ballgame that day.

Concert band auditions will be held during the week of November 18, according to Mr. Wisener.

Clinic Arranged For Cheerleaders

Approximately 350 high schools from West Tennessee, Western Kentucky and Southeast Missouri have been invited to attend the sixth annual Cheerleader Clinic to be today at the University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

This clinic is the first major event to be held in the sunken basketball arena of the UTMB's new Physical Education building.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m.; and the program will start at 9:30 with a welcome address by Dr. Paul Meek, vice president of the University of Tennessee in charge of the Martin Branch. Introductory remarks will be given by A. Foster Bridges, executive secretary of the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association.

Bob Shields, an official instructor of the Nation Cheerleaders Association, will conduct the sessions during the day. These sessions will include in addition to the latest yell routines, discussions on sportsmanship, crowd psychology, proper methods on how

Robert Stewart To Give Recital

Robert Stewart, assistant professor of piano at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch, will be presented in a recital on Monday, October 14, at 8 p.m.

The concert, which is open to the public free of charge, will be heard in the auditorium of the UTMB Music-Drama Building.

Mr. Stewart, who has been a member of the faculty at UTMB for six years, has played numerous recitals on the campus, covering a wide variety of piano literature.

Reserve Book Room Added To Library

Room 200 in the ABL Building has been equipped for the reserve book room of the Library. It is furnished at present with temporary furniture in order to open for service on October 1. Attractive, well designed library furniture is on order and will be installed later in the fall quarter. Accommodation for 72 people will give much needed seating space for the Library. Reserve book room hours will follow the same schedule as the main part of the Library except that the reserve book room will be closed for the supper hour from 5 to 6 p.m. and will close on Friday evening at 5 o'clock, to boost school spirit, and new techniques for basketball pep rallies.

Host and Hostesses for the clinic are the UTMB cheerleaders. Miss Bettye Giles, assistant professor of physical education at UTMB, is in charge of arrangements.

Addition Three New Buildings Helps Ease Growing Enrollment

Three new buildings, valued at $1,700,000, were completed this summer at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch.

The new structures are the Physical Education Building, Heating Plant, and a new wing of the women's residence hall.

The new physical education building, valued at $700,000, consists of two activity rooms or warm-up basketball courts, two class rooms, office facilities for eight to ten instructors, and a varsity basketball court. The varsity court is a sunken court with seating arrangement for 4,000 people. There are approximately 2000 lockers for P. E. students with the football and basketball teams having separate locker rooms.

The new four-story addition to the women's dorm has facilities for 214 coeds. The $700,000 addition has central air conditioning and an elevator. All the furniture, except the chairs, is built in. The extension also has four lounges, accommodations for two hostesses, and an inner court which can be used for social activities.

The new heating plant, valued at $300,000, warms all of the campus except the new gymnasium which has its own heating facilities. The new heating plant should be sufficient for the next twenty-five years. The plant houses three boilers of which only one is necessary. In the coldest weather only two boilers will be necessary for heating.

These buildings were a necessity for UTMB because of the increasing enrollment. Prof. Earl Knepp, instructor of agricultural Engineering at UTMB, was supervisor engineer for the three structures. The buildings will be dedicated November 14 when President A. D. Holt, president of The University of Tennessee, visits the campus.

Frosh Start 1963-64 Year

BY FRED A NEAL

A week of orientation, registration, and social events began for this year's freshman class on September 23.

After a day of orientation and standing in line, the freshmen took time out on Monday night to relax and enjoy an Open House at the Wagon Wheel. Everyone joined in for dancing and refreshments.

On Tuesday night the ASA Mixer was held. All students were invited to join in games and help their respective teams to victory. Afterwards, refreshments were served, and the group moved to the tennis courts to dance to the music of the Twilights.

Wednesday morning brought the final lines of registration.

The new cheerleaders were chosen on Thursday afternoon. That night was Church Night. The respective churches held socials for the students.

Friday brought the first day of classes, and the Merchant's Bar-B-Q. Food, speeches, entertainment, and a street dance were on the agenda.

The motorcade to Murfreesboro and the Orange and White party entertained the school spirited students on Saturday night, and thus ended the first busy week at The University of Tennessee Martin Branch.
